WILL BRING PROHIBITION
New York, June 7.—The amount of materials usually used in the United Kingdom of Great Britain for the manufacture of alcoholic beverages has been reduced from 1,856,000 tons before the beginning of the war to 512,000 tons at present, according to a statement issued here by the British Pictorial Service.

All the materials now being used for this purpose, it is stated, are utilized in brewing beer.

Mrs. E. H. Cooper left this morning for Raleigh to visit relatives and friends.

LT. ROBERT B. ANDERSON

In the presence of the deepest sorrow and the most exalted service words are inadequate and the lips are dumb. Only the heart can speak, and the deep utterances of the heart can never be expressed in words.

The death of a young man in the flower of his youth on the fields of France for his country and for mankind. Can more be said?

Robert was so gentle, so kind, so loveable, so manly and yet so brave. It is meet that services in his honor will be held in the Methodist church of which he was a devoted member Sunday afternoon.

He leaves a mother and father, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Anderson and five brothers, Doctors Paul Anderson with the McGuire unit, Dr. Wade Anderson of this city, Mr. Steve Anderson of this city, Lt. Jesse Anderson at Camp Jackson and Sergeant James Anderson with Company K in France.

NOT ENOUGH IN CLASS NUMBER ONE

Washington, June 7.—A general reversion of the classification under the selective service act was instituted today by Provost Marshal General Crowder who telegraphed the Governors of all the states asking them to ascertain the reason for the small number of registrants in class one in the several exemption boards of the country.

He said there were thousands of men in class three and four who should have been in class number one and two. The Provost Marshal General asked the Governors to make a thorough examination in order to see if there were any men in the upper classes who should have been placed in the first and second classes.

Good Sorts of Hosiery For Men

It isn't how much you pay for hosiery; it's how good they are. A well-dressed man of today is just as particular in the selection of his hosiery as any other portion of his apparel, for you will find no greater mark of refined, good taste than Proper Hosiery. It is to those who appreciate superior finish, fine quality and comfortable fit that our Hosiery will appeal.

At this time low shoes mean for most men higher priced hosiery than high shoes—one's socks are so much in evidence. We have made quite a study of the hosiery question and believe our stocks will enable every man to express his own individual taste.
